Outline

The goal of this course is to develop skills, knowledge, and tools useful in applying modern computationally intensive statistical methods to research in any field. Topics will be selected from random variate generation, design and analysis of simulation experiments, optimization algorithms for model fitting, bootstrap, Markov chain Monte Carlo, smoothing, machine learning and data mining, parallel computing, data technologies, and graphical methods. Most topics will be presented in the context of the R statistical computing language.

Prerequisites

The prerequisites for this course are STAT:5200 or BIOS:5610 and proficiency in Fortran or C or C++ or Java. These prerequisites imply a basic familiarity with mathematical statistics and with R.

Recommended Textbooks

Geof H. Givens, Jennifer A. Hoeting (2005). Computational Statistics, Wiley-Interscience.

Reading and Homework

Homework assignments consisting of a mix of computational and theoretical problems will be given roughly every week. Some problems will cover material not addressed in class and may require additional reading. Assignments will be posted on the class web site. Suggested reading will also be posted on the class web site when appropriate, but you should also seek out and explore relevant references on your own. Assignments will need to be submitted electronically. Many students find that these assignments take a long time to complete, so plan your time accordingly.

Class Project

Students registered for this class are expected to complete a class project. You can work on this project on your own or in a group of up to three students. Your project should represent about 20 hours of work on a topic of your choice that involves computation. You should start to think about the topic as soon as possible. You might investigate properties of a methodology you find interesting, you might compare several methods on a variety of problems, or you might analyze an interesting data set using methodology related to ideas introduced in the class. There are many possible choices for the topic of your project, and identifying a suitable topic is an important part of your task. The project should represent new work, not something you have done for another course or as part of your thesis.

A proposal for your project is due on Monday, March 21. The proposal should be at most two pages long. A final report on your project is due on Friday, May 6. The report should be three to five pages in length, excluding any appendices you wish to attach, and must be submitted electronically. Your project may be shared with the class through the class web page.

Grading

The course grade will be based on assignments (70%) and the class project (20%). You may discuss general issues and approaches with your fellow students, but your work must be your own. If you use any references, including solutions to similar problems prepared by other students, you must cite and credit your sources.

ATTENDANCE AND CLASSROOM EXPECTATIONS

Students are responsible for attending class and for knowing an instructor's attendance policies, which vary by course and content area. All students are expected to attend class and to contribute to its learning environment in part by complying with University policies and directives regarding appropriate classroom behavior or other matters.

ABSENCES

Students are responsible for communicating with instructors as soon they know that an absence might occur or as soon as possible in the case of an illness. Delays in communication could result in a forfeit of what otherwise might be an excused absence.

ABSENCES: ILLNESS, UNAVOIDABLE CIRCUMSTANCES, AND UNIVERSITY SPONSORED ACTIVITIES

Students who are ill, in an unavoidable circumstance affecting academic work, or who miss class because of a University sponsored activity are allowed by UI policy to make up a missed exam. Documentation is required by the instructor except in the case of a brief illness. Students are responsible for communicating with instructors as soon as the absence is known (<https://opsmanual.uiowa.edu/students/absences-class#8.1>).

ABSENCES: HOLY DAYS

The University is prepared to make reasonable accommodations for students whose religious holy days coincide with their classroom assignments, test schedules, and classroom attendance expectations. Students must notify their instructors in writing of any such Religious Holy Day conflicts or absences within the first few days of the semester or session, and no later than the third week of the semester. If the conflict or absence will occur within the first three weeks of the semester, the student should notify the instructor as soon as possible. See Operations Manual 8.2 Absences for Religious Holy Days for additional information.

ABSENCES: MILITARY SERVICE OBLIGATIONS

Students absent from class due to U.S. veteran or U.S. military service obligations (including military service-related medical appointments, military orders, and National Guard Service obligations) must be excused without penalty. Instructors must make reasonable accommodations to allow students to make-up exams or other work. Students must communicate with their instructors about the expected possibility of missing class as soon as possible. (For more information, see <https://opsmanual.uiowa.edu/iv-8-absences-class%C2%A0-0>).

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Plagiarism and the process for addressing academic misconduct of graduate students are defined in Section IV, Article F "Plagiarism by Graduate Students" of the UI Graduate College Manual of Rules and Regulations. Please contact the CLAS Associate Dean for Graduate Education for any necessary assistance in navigating the process mandated by the Graduate College.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATIONS

The University is committed to providing an educational experience that is accessible to all students. If a student has a diagnosed disability or other disabling condition that may impact the student's ability to complete the course requirements as stated in the syllabus, the student may seek accommodations through Student Disability Services (SDS). SDS is responsible for making Letters of Accommodation (LOA) available to the student. The student must provide a LOA to the instructor as early in the semester as possible, but requests not made at least two weeks prior to the scheduled activity for which an accommodation is sought may not be accommodated. The LOA will specify what reasonable course accommodations the student is eligible for and those the instructor should provide. Additional information can be found on the SDS website. Note that accommodations are not granted retroactively but from the time of the student's request to the instructor onward. Graduate students serving as Teaching Assistants, Research Assistants, or Fellows must contact Faculty and Staff Disability Services (<https://hr.uiowa.edu/support/faculty-and-staff-disability-services>) for assistance with accommodations.

CLASS RECORDINGS: PRIVACY AND SHARING

Course lectures and discussions are sometimes recorded or live-streamed. These are only available to students registered for the course and the intellectual property of the faculty member. These materials may not be shared or reproduced without the explicit written consent of the instructors. Students may not share these recordings with those who are not enrolled in the course; likewise, students may not upload recordings to any other online environment. Doing so is a breach of the Code of Student Conduct and could be a violation of the Federal Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA); also see <https://dos.uiowa.edu/policies/code-of-student-life/>.

COMMUNICATION: UI EMAIL

Students are responsible for all official correspondences sent to their UI email address (uiowa.edu) and must use this address for any communication with instructors or staff in the UI community (Operations Manual, III.15.2). Emails should be respectful and brief, with complex matters addressed during the instructor's drop-in hours, for example. Faculty are not expected to answer email after business hours or during the weekends.

FREE SPEECH AND EXPRESSION

The University of Iowa supports and upholds the First Amendment protection of freedom of speech and the principles of academic and artistic freedom. We are committed to open inquiry, vigorous debate, and creative expression inside and outside of the classroom. Visit Free Speech at Iowa for more information on the University's policies on free speech and academic freedom: <https://freespeech.uiowa.edu/>.

COMPLAINTS ABOUT ACADEMIC MATTERS

Students with a complaint about a grade or a related academic matter should first visit with the instructor and then with the course supervisor (if applicable), and finally with the director of the school, department, or program offering the course. If a graduate student has not been able to resolve the issue through the director of the school, department, or program, they should contact the associate dean for graduate education in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

FINAL EXAMINATION POLICIES

The final exam schedule is published during the fifth week of the fall and spring semesters or on the first day of summer classes; students are responsible for knowing the date, time, and place of their final exams. Students should not make travel plans until knowing this information. A student with exams scheduled on the same day and time or who have more than two final exams on the same day should visit this page for how to resolve these problems by the given deadline (<https://registrar.uiowa.edu/makeup-final-examination-policies>). No exams are allowed the week before finals, but with some exceptions made for labs, language courses, and off-cycle courses (<https://registrar.uiowa.edu/final-examination-scheduling-policies>).

HOME OF THE COURSE

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences (CLAS) is the home of this course, and CLAS governs the policies and procedures for its courses. Graduate students, however, must adhere to the academic deadlines set by the Graduate College. See <https://grad.uiowa.edu/academics/deadlines>.

MENTAL HEALTH

Students are encouraged to be mindful of their mental health and seek help as a preventive measure or if feeling overwhelmed and/or struggling to meet course expectations. Students are encouraged to talk to their instructor for assistance with specific class-related concerns. For additional support and counseling, students are encouraged to contact University Counseling Service (UCS). Information about UCS, including resources and how to schedule an appointment, can be found at counseling.uiowa.edu. Find out more about UI mental health services at: mentalhealth.uiowa.edu. Student Health can also address related concerns (<https://studenthealth.uiowa.edu/>). These visits are free to students. After hours, students are encouraged to call the Johnson County Community Crisis Line at (319) 351-0140 or dial 911 in an emergency.
